

F1
capacities of a particulate dietary fiber material consisting essentially of indigestible fiber derived from natural grains and wood products, comprising dispersing said particulate material in a liquid media, applying an abrupt pressure change by mechanical means to said particulate material in said liquid media, and recovering said modified fiber material.

In claim 10: between the words "consisting" and "of" in the third line, delete the word --essentially--.

In claim 11: between the words "consisting" and "of" in the third line, delete the word --essentially--.

Please cancel claim 2.